

Laundry Audits

Join us for an interactive session where we will discuss how to ensure your laundry is processing industrial garments following best industry practices.

We will review, step-by-step, each process from soil sort to loading delivery trucks with an emphasis on the proper use of laundry equipment. We will demonstrate a unique method of testing actual internal dryer temperatures.

In this session, you will discover that an independent assessment of your plant's quality systems, and a view of the facility's precision in producing consistent quality textile goods, will aide in supporting your health and safety goals.

Presenter: Jeff Korth

Jeff has been in the industry since 1990 and joined Workwear Outfitters (formerly VF Workwear) in 2000 as a Quality Control Analyst, responsible for implementing quality systems for internal and external facilities.

Since 2013, Jeff has held the role of Customer Quality Manager, responsible for performing laundry audits and managing customer issues.
