enhanced by your local laundry

Whether linens, apparel, or other products, we will work directly with you to create a program that builds on your current branding and takes it to a new level. We will customize the program to meet your requirements (logos, colors, fabrics). We can customize your look to fit the local style and fashion.

COMMUNITY money spent stays local

You live here, you do business here, and you want your money to stay local. We're just the same. We'll see you at the bank, at the ballpark, at the movie theatre, and we'll be there to support your business and invest in our local community. It means a great deal to us to be an active part of our community.

VALUE
part of a nationwide network

We're local, but we have national buying power as a part of the largest network of independent textile laundries across the country. Our extensive training and education process enables us to bring the best of class to our local community. This means you receive great value provided by industry experts.

We're experts in our industry, just as you are in yours. We fully manage your program and deliver the products to you on a timely basis.

"The most important component to a rental program is receiving clean products when you need them. This is exactly our business model."

Products

quality products from the best manufacturers

We bring you the best brands in the industry. Whether you're looking for linens, apparel, or many other products, we have access to the best and broadest selection in the industry. We won't push something you don't need. We're here for the long-term, so we want to provide the best solution for your needs. It's not about our brand, it's about yours.

Services

timely, complete and easy to deal with

The most important component to a rental program is receiving clean products when you need them. This is exactly our business model. We understand the importance of providing timely service and timely solutions. We know it's equally important to provide clean product, delivered accurately. We do all of this, and more. We'll constantly analyze your business to search for new products and services that will provide additional value.
